Al-Jawshan al-Kabir

The word Jawshan literally means breastplate, chain mail, or a similar type of armor. In Islamic terminology, it denotes a long prayer, known as al-Jawshan al-Kabir, transmitted from the Prophet.

Musa al-Kazim relates al-Jawshan al-Kabir from the Prophet on the successive authority of Ja'far al-Sadiq, Muhammad al-Bakir, Zayn al-Abidin, Husayn, and the fourth caliph, Ali.

Al-Jawshan al-Kabir is a long prayer consisting of one hundred parts. All parts, except a few, consist of ten of God's Names and Attributes. At the end of each part, this passage is repeated: All-Glorified are You! There is no deity but You! Mercy! Mercy! Save (protect, deliver) us from the Fire!

At the beginning of twenty-five of these one hundred parts, the phrase I entreat You by Your Names is found and these parts contain the Names of God that are invocated, such as "O God, O the All-Merciful, O the All-Compassionate." Within every part that begins with this phrase, there are various supplications beginning with expressions such as "O the Best of forgivers." Thus, the whole prayer comprises two-hundred-and-fifty Names of God and seven-hundred-and-fifty Attributes and supplications.

The main purpose of all these supplications is—as can be clearly understood from the content of the prayer and from the phrase Mercy! Mercy! Protect us from the Fire! repeated at the end of each part—to plead salvation from misfortune during this life and from punishment in the Hereafter.

Al-Jawshan al-Kabir is one of the prayers most frequently read by Muslims; various hadiths reported from the Prophet relate the rewards that one may receive in this world as well as in the Hereafter for reciting it. Some Muslims prefer to read the entire prayer by themselves, whereas others share it with their friends or household and make it a part of their daily service. Ahmed Ziyaeddin Gümüshanevi included this prayer in his Majmū'atū'l-Ahdhâb, in which he collected many prayers that were repeatedly recited and formulas of remembrance of God. This prayer was published many times in separate volumes. In more recent times, it was made popular by Bediüzzaman Said Nursi (1877–1960), the author of the Risale-i Nur collection, a modern Qur'anic commentary.

Note: In Arabic, the direction of writing is from right to left; therefore pages start and flow in the same direction. This book also follows the same system, as the prayers were originally in Arabic. It should also be noted that number of each chapter comes after the prayer, not in the beginning; this is especially important when sharing chapters among several people.

never need the mercy of anyone else from among Your creation. I also ask You to meet all our needs and grant our requests in both this world and the Hereafter, and to grant us a beautiful end with bliss, martyrdom, nobility, liberality and eternal glad tidings when we depart from this world.

Also, give due rewards to Prophet Muhammad, upon him be peace and blessings, to the extent that He deserves, in return for the good deeds he did for us.

Please do not leave us even for a second with our carnal souls, nor with any of your creatures. Make sound and whole all of our states and affairs, and guide, protect, and look after us with Your never-sleeping eye, preserving us with Your support, never abandoning us, O the One of Majesty and Grace!

Avert from us any disaster that may be caused by the jinn, humans, or devils, or by earthquakes, the shattering of mountains out of their fear of God, and plagues, pestilences, the evil eye, and all other diseases, pains, or disasters. Preserve us from every evil and vice!

And, for the sake of Your Mercy, O the Most Compassionate of the compassionate, provide us with salvation, well-being, and goodness in this world as well as in the Hereafter.

Bestow Your peace and blessings on our master Muhammad, and on his Family and Companions altogether! All praise be to God, the Lord of the worlds!

Concluding Prayer

O God, O our Lord, save us, protect us, and deliver us from the Fire! Bestow on us well-being, forgive us, and place us in Paradise, Your pure and clean abode, along with the godly, through Your forgiveness, O, the All-Protecting, and through Your grace O the All-Forgiving!

I ask You, for the sake of these noble and honorable Names and these exalted and gracious Attributes of Yours, to bestow blessings on Prophet Muhammad, his Family and Companions, to the number of the good works of Muhammad!

In the name of God. God is sufficient for me. There is no deity but God. God bears witness to everything.

Say: He – (He is) God. What wonders God wills and whatever He wills comes to be. My Lord is God. God is Blessed and Supreme. God is All-Exalted. I put my trust in God and I rely on Him. God suffices against them. He is the All-Hearing and the All-Knowing.

All-Glorified are You, O, God, Who is the sole Deity! Mercy! Mercy! I am unable to praise You as You praise Yourself. O God, O the All-Merciful, O the All-Compassionate, O the All-Forgiving, O the All-Responsive to the gratitude of His servants.

I ask You, for the sake of Your All-Beautiful Names, Your All-Exalted Attributes, and complete Words, by which You mention and with which describe Yourself, to forgive me, my parents, all believers, and all Muslims, be they dead or alive, male or female, and to bestow on us such mercy that we will
